Sergeant Eric Starnes

I am looking forward to working with the Alumni Association, being a part of the citizen's police academy, and learning more about the community emergency response team. One block area I have taught at the college is community policing. This is a difficult area for many officers to grasp because of the belief it takes a change from an active enforcement role. I have a theoretical knowledge of what community policing should be, but when I look at those that have gone before me, I see them as having a more practical reality of community policing.

For those that were unable to attend the alumni meeting, I would like to introduce myself. I am Eric Starnes and I have been with the Euless Police Department since 1993. During my time at the department, I have worked patrol, canine, tactical operations, and internal affairs. I promoted to the rank of Sergeant in 2000 and spent six years as a patrol sergeant. In my off time I enjoy spending time with my kids, motorcycle riding, and playing with my dog. I am also severe workaholic. I teach as an adjunct professor at Tarrant County College in the evenings.

My goal over the next year is to learn as much as possible about the programs identified above. I believe that we are students of life and are always in a learning process. While I am in this learning process, I will be looking to your dedication and knowledge to help me develop in this new role. I look forward to meeting those that I have not met, and if you have
